PROVINCIAL BOARD OF HEALTH.

"HEALTH ACT."

REGULATIONS FOR SANITARY CONTROL OF RAILWAY CONSTRUCTION CAMPS.

(1.) STANDARDIZATION OF CAMPS.

STABLES to be as far from kitchens, dining-rooms, and commissary as possible, minimum distance being 300 feet.

Stables and horse-troughs to be, in case of creeks, down stream from camp supply-place; in case of springs or wells, to be 150 feet from same and down-grade therefrom where possible.

Piggeries to be minimum of one-quarter mile from camp and to the leeward of same with respect to prevailing winds.

Latrines to be as far as possible from kitchens, dining-rooms, and commissaries, minimum being 300 feet. Latrines should not be closer than 75 feet to bunk-houses.

Water supply should be up-grade from camp where possible and away from path or road of entrance to camp.

Camps should be so placed as to be easily drained and so situated as to be protected in so far as possible from prevailing winds to avoid dust.

Chief contractors are requested to develop a uniform camp plan in accordance with the above indications, which all sub-contractors will follow. It is appreciated that the nature of camp-grounds will so vary as to prevent this plan being adopted in all cases. All sub-contractors will, however, be supplied with such plan and will vary from it only when there is no possibility of giving it effect. Such variation from standard must receive the approval of the Health Officer or Inspector. All plans are to be submitted to officials of the Health Department. It is required also that the various buildings, etc., comprising camps meet certain common requirements, as follows:—

Bunk-houses.—A minimum of 384 cubic feet to be provided for each occupant.

Adequate ventilation: Venetian roof ventilator with vent 20 inches square is suggested for every 8,000 cubic feet of air space, and windows constructed so as to be opened when necessary.

The use of double-decked bunks is to be discouraged. Where they are permitted the side-wall must be minimum of 8 feet.

The Department is aware of the very satisfactory service given in army camps of double-deck bunks made of wooden uprights with wire-screen bottoms and washable palliasses of adequate capacity stuffed with clean hay or straw, and will not forbid their use, but will regard such as an experiment; and if their use does not meet with satisfaction in the railway type of camp, some other form of bed and mattress will require to be provided.

Bunks must be placed in pairs, in contact on one side, but each pair must have a minimum of 2 feet, preferably 3 feet, on each side of it.

Floors must be at minimum of 1 foot from ground and are to be double-boarded, or so built as to allow of no cracks. They must be smooth-surfaced, so as to permit of easy cleaning and scrubbing.

It is thought that a lean-to should be built on the end of every sleeping bunk-house of adequate dimensions to provide for the reception of bed-rolls, clothing, boots, etc., of the occupants, so as to obviate the hitherto insanitary practice of storing same under bunks and fouling the air. Such extra space could also be well used as a place for wash-basins, night-urinals, etc.

It is advised that some form of urinal be provided for night use at each bunk-house to prevent the indiscriminate urinating about the door of the building.

It is required that bunks and floors be cleaned and scrubbed at frequent intervals and that sand spit-boxes be provided; also that no soiled clothes or garments be permitted to be hung or dried in bunk houses, and that no off-cast or other garments, boots, etc., be permitted to be stored under bunks.

Cook-houses, Dining-rooms.—It is not permitted to use such or any partitioned-off part of such as sleeping-quarters.

Floors are to be free of open cracks, so that the ground beneath is not soiled. They are to be scrubbed daily; the waste water from such washing to be disposed of as in case of urine—i.e., sub-soil.

All doors and windows must be fly-proofed with screens.

Bath-houses, Laundries, Drying-rooms.—A building is to be provided with heat and hot and cold water for bathing and laundry purposes, with adequate facilities for same. Drainage from same is to be provided to discharge all waste and soiled waters subsoil. A sand-trap should be inserted to catch soap and grease.

NOTE.—Suggested: a building 10 x 20 feet, with a partition across the centre. The same stove could heat both rooms, one room being used for laundry and bath purposes, the other as a drying-room.

Latrines.—Should be built on skids so they can be moved; pits to be 8 feet deep, and when filled to depth of 3 feet—i.e., within 5 feet of surface—are to be filled in and a fresh pit dug.

Seats are to be provided with hinged cover and are to be placed transversely to pit, not parallel to same and along edge as heretofore. This is to prevent stream of urine and faeces being directed against wall of pit. Seats are to be scrubbed daily with antiseptic solution such as Cresol, and pit and ground about latrine sprinkled with lime. A box of ashes should be kept in each latrine and all excreta covered with same. A substantial layer of soil or ashes should be spread over contents of pit each day.

Latrine buildings must be fly proof, without cracks in walls, and with well fitting doors. No space must exist between bottom of latrine and ground without being fly proofed with netting or being banked up. Latrines must be provided with urinal-trough distinct from toilet seats. Waste from such urinals is to be conducted into a separate pit 6 feet deep and filled with loose rock and surfaced with soil. This form of subsoil disposal of urine is required wherever urinals are established in the camps, and all waste and soiled waters of the camp are to be similarly disposed of, those of a greasy nature being first run through a sand-trap.

Disposal of Wastes. Kitchen refuse, garbage should be deposited in containers with perforated bottoms and set over drain so that fluids may escape. This will permit of easier burning. Such refuse must be burned daily.

Waste and soiled waters must be conducted into rock-filled pits for subsoil disposal. As practically all waste waters contain soap and grease, all drains should have as their first element a receptacle with water-tight sides and perforated bottom. The bottom of this should be loosely covered with straw and over this a layer of sand several inches thick. This will catch grease and prevent same passing into subsoil and clogging drainage through same. The straw and sand should be changed at frequent intervals. A lid is to be kept on such trap and every care taken to keep outside thereof and ground about it unsoiled. Lime should be freely spread about it.

The above applies to all waste and soiled waters from kitchens, bunk-houses, bath-houses, and laundries, and to all waters that have been used for scrubbing floors, etc.

Manure must be burned twice per week. Maximum period it may be left undestroyed is eighty-four hours. Stables are to be cleaned at least twice daily and limed twice per week. The surface from which manure is removed is to be limed after each twice-a-week removal of same.

(2.) PURE WATER-SUPPLY.

This is imperative and no camp should be established until the water-supply of same is known to be good. Moreover, the camp is to be so disposed with respect to such water-supply that no silage of same can take place from the camp. Thus the whole camp should drain away from the water-supply. Stables, latrines, and garbage and waste-water pits must all be a minimum of 150 feet from same. In the case of creeks care must be taken that no pollution of same occurs from the camp. Such creeks should be fenced off from the camp, and water for camp and stable use obtained by pumping or other means which will obviate the approach of men or horses to the creek itself.

Chlorination of all water must be carried out for human use when instructed by the Health Officer.

(3.) PURE AIR AND VENTILATION.

This has been taken up in connection with the construction of bunk-houses. Too forcible ventilation, causing draughts, is to be avoided as inducive of colds and pneumonia. Overheating of air should also be avoided; a proper temperature being about 65° to 70° Fahr. A space should be left in bunk-houses around the stove when such is used, so that occupants of adjacent bunks are not overheated. The regulations require 384 cubic feet of air space per individual, with adequate circulation of fresh air.

(4.) CAMP CLEANLINESS.

Disease-breeding germs infest all animal and human excreta, including urine and all garbage, refuse, and soiled water. When such germs contaminate human food, disease is born. After water, flies are the chief agents in infecting food. Flies grow in filth only, especially manure, and they feed largely on filth and rotted matter. This is because flies have no digestive system in their bodies and so are dependent on putrefactive matter, which is always partially digested. Their feet and bodies are covered with fine hairs and a gummy substance to which millions of bacteria stick. A fly will land on manure, human excreta, drops of urine, garbage, or filthy bath or laundry water, and will gather up all sorts of disease germs which it will deposit on the next thing it lights upon, such as sugar, bread, milk, etc.

Hence the vital necessity of disposing safely of all waste products by fire or underground drainage, and of preventing the circulation of flies by the use of screens; also the necessity of the frequent destruction of manure, in which they breed twice weekly, as the fly eggs develop in four days. The destruction of flies is also highly important, and it is advised that large fly traps be improvised and placed around stables, privies, and kitchens. Such traps will catch many thousands of flies in a day.

It is recommended that the blankets of all men coming into camp be inspected to ensure their cleanliness and prevent infection of the camp. Should such blankets be found in an insanitary condition, the owner should be required to make them clean before admission to the bunk-house.

A Sanitary Inspector is to be appointed by the Provincial Board of Health to supervise sanitation and see that effect is given to all regulations.

OF BRITISH COLUMBIA.

DOMINION ORDERS IN COUNCIL.

AT THE GOVERNMENT HOUSE AT OTTAWA.

Tuesday, the 29th day of July, 1919.

PRESENT:

HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL IN COUNCIL.

WHEREAS the Minister of the Interior reports that in Dominion Parks certain rentals and water and sewer rates are collected by the Dominion Government:

Therefore, His Excellency the Governor-General in Council, under the authority of the Dominion "Forest Reserves and Parks Act," is pleased to make the following regulations exempting the home property of soldiers from the payment of these rates, and the said regulations to govern in such cases are hereby made and established accordingly:—

1. In these regulations, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1.) The term "soldier" shall mean any person having, on or after the first day of August, 1914, his or her permanent residence in a Dominion Park, and who is or has been:—

(a.) A member of and on actual service in the active military forces raised by the Government of Canada for the express purpose of serving outside Canada in the present war:

(b.) A member of and on actual service in the naval forces of Canada in the present war:

(c.) A member of and on actual service in the present war in the military or naval forces of His Majesty raised otherwise than by the Government of Canada:

(d.) A member of and on actual service in the military or naval forces of any of the Allies of His Majesty in the present war:

(e.) Any woman who has volunteered her services for work overseas connected with the present war, and whose services have been accepted by the Government of Canada or of Great Britain and Ireland or of their Allies, and who is or has been actually serving in such capacity overseas.

The term "soldier" shall not include:

(a.) Any person belonging to or enrolled in the militia of Canada or in forces raised for the protection of Canada, within the boundaries of Canada, unless such person is or has been actually serving in His Majesty's forces outside of Canada:

(b.) Any person called up under the "Military Service Act," being chapter 19 of the "Statutes of the Dominion of Canada, 1917," or any amendments thereto or any Act passed in substitution thereto, unless such person so called up has been actually enrolled in the military forces of Canada and has served overseas.

(2.) "Rates" means any rental, water, or sewer rates imposed by the Dominion Government or any part of such rates.

(3.) "Home property" is land which fulfils the following conditions:—

(a.) It must be land which was occupied by a soldier or his wife or any of his ascendants or descendants dependent upon him for support at the time such soldier became a soldier within the meaning of these regulations:

(b.) It must consist of not more than four lots according to a plan of subdivision if situate in a city, town, or village, and such lots must be contiguous; or of not more than 320 acres of land if situate outside a city, town, or village, and if composed of more than one parcel of land, such parcels must be situate within a circle of nine miles radius:

(c.) It must be listed on a home property register kept by the Superintendent of the Dominion Park in which it is situated in accordance with the provisions of these regulations.

2. No soldier shall become at any time liable in respect of home property to the payment of any rates which, when they first fall due, fall due or would but for these regulations fall due (a) after December 31st, 1917, and before the expiry of one year after the declaration of peace by Great Britain; (b) from himself, while a soldier.

3. Where any soldier cannot claim as home property any land or lands to the full extent allowed by these regulations, then he may claim as home property land with respect to which his wife, if she were a soldier, could claim exemption, but so that exemption shall only be claimed in all with respect to four contiguous lots, or 320 acres, as the case may be.

4. Each Superintendent of a Dominion Park shall keep a register of home properties.

5. Any soldier may apply to a Superintendent of a Dominion Park to have home property listed upon the register.

6. Such application shall be accompanied with such evidence as to the land affected thereby being home property as the Superintendent may demand.

7. Any Superintendent shall, upon being satisfied that any land is home property, list the same upon the register, whether any formal application has been made with respect thereto or not, but if no application has been made with respect thereto the Superintendent shall be in no way liable for not listing any land.

8. Each Superintendent shall from time to time forward to the Minister of the Interior a copy of his register, if so directed by him.

9. Where any land would be home property but for the fact that it has not been listed in accordance with the provisions of these regulations, and a soldier has become liable to rates in respect thereof, such rates shall be remitted or paid back.

10. Where any application, claim, or notification may be made by a soldier and he does not make the same within a reasonable time, then such application, claim, or notification may be made by his wife, or any of his ascendants or descendants dependent upon him for support, or his agent or solicitor.

11. Any person who has been a soldier shall for one year from the date of his discharge or one year after the declaration of peace by Great Britain, whichever first happens, continue to be exempt from the rates from which he would have been exempt if he had continued to be a soldier.

12. If any person being a soldier has died since the beginning of the war, but before the coming into force of these regulations, or if any soldier dies while personally entitled to such exemption, his legal representatives and his estate shall, in favour of his widow or in favour of any of his ascendants or descendants then dependent upon him for support, have the same exemption from rates until the expiry of one year after the declaration of peace by Great Britain as such soldier would have had if he had continued to live.

13. If any dispute or difficulty arises as to whether any land is exempted land, or as to whether any person is or was a soldier, or as to whether any person has been discharged, or as to whether any person is or was dependent upon a soldier for support, the Minister of the Interior shall decide thereon, and his decision when reduced to writing shall be conclusive proof of the points decided therein.

an14 Clerk of the Privy Council.

NOTICE.

CERTIFIED COPY OF A REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE OF THE PRIVY COUNCIL, APPROVED BY HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL ON THE 1ST AUGUST, 1919.

THE Committee of the Privy Council have had before them a report, dated 24th July, 1919, from the Minister of the Interior, stating that W. U. Homfray, of Kamloops, B.C., has made application to purchase, under irrigation conditions, the lands enumerated in the accompanying schedule, containing approximately 810.3 acres.

The Minister observes that inspections as to the quality of the lands, the engineering features and the feasibility of the project have been made by officers of the Department of the Interior, who have reported that the lands are useless for agriculture without irrigation, that they can be made productive with the aid of irrigation, and that from an engineering standpoint the project is practicable.

That the lands are available for the purpose and adjoin an area of approximately 823.68 acres owned by the applicant.

The Minister, therefore, recommends that the lands enumerated in the accompanying schedule be sold to the applicant on the following terms and conditions:—

1. The land sold to be brought under cultivation by irrigation.

2. The purchase price to be at the rate of five dollars ($5) per acre, subject to a deduction of the cost of the irrigation works up to an amount not exceeding two dollars ($2) per acre, and the amount so credited shall be deemed to be a payment in cash made on the date of sale. The said purchase price to be paid as follows: One dollar ($1) per acre within one year from date of the authorization of the sale by the Governor in Council, the balance within three years from the date of such authorization or upon fulfilment before the expiration of the said three years of all other conditions of the sale, with interest at 6 per cent. per annum and 7 per cent. on deferred payments.

3. The necessary water rights to be secured from the Provincial Government of British Columbia, no work to be done on the land until preliminary water rights are secured from the Province.

4. The work to be commenced within one year from the date of the authorization by Order in Council of the sale and to be completed to the satisfaction of the Minister of the Interior within three years from such date, unless other dates are fixed by the Provincial authorities in connection with the water rights, in which case the Provincial dates may be accepted if approved by the Minister of the Interior.

5. Examination to be made by Engineers of the Department of the Interior on completion of the work.

6. Patent to issue, when conditions completed, for those parcels the irrigable portions of which have been brought under cultivation by irrigation.

7. The sale to be cancellable for non-payment of the purchase price or for failure to comply with any of the conditions of the sale.

8. Prior to patent no transfer or assignment of the lands, or any rights therein, to be made without the consent of the Minister of the Interior.

The Committee concur in the foregoing and submit the same for approval.
